

A portrait of Chanel Rion, a woman with long, dark, wavy hair, wearing a black double-breasted jacket over a teal top. She is looking directly at the camera with a slight smile. The background is a blurred outdoor setting.

CHANEL RION

MEDIA KIT 2025

Producer | Journalist | Writer | NWHCA Founder

Chanel Rion is a journalist, primetime host, and the founder of the National White House Correspondents' Association (NWHCA), dedicated to diversifying White House press coverage. She served as OAN's Chief White House Correspondent (2020-2023) and now hosts "Fine Point" on OAN. A Harvard graduate with a degree in International Relations, Chanel also runs Wordebys.com, a showcase for her original mini-essays of curated forgotten words and art from around the world. Raised across four countries and home-tutored, she brings an eclectic lens to her work. Known for her bold reporting, Chanel is redefining media, new media, and its access to power through the NWHCA.

CONTACT:
INFO@NWHCA.PRESS

WWW.CHANELRION.COM

CHANEL RION

WRITER | PRODUCER | FOUNDER

BOOKING

Available For: Podcasts, TV panels, op-eds, speaking engagements.

NWHCA OVERVIEW

National White House Correspondents' Association (NWHCA)
Founded by Chanel Rion in 2019, the NWHCA promotes press freedom and viewpoint diversity at the White House. Learn more at nwhca.press.

Contact Information

- NWHCA Contact: info@nwhca.press
- Website: chanelrion.com
- Social Media: X - @ChanelRion

About:

Chanel Rion is a seasoned broadcaster, investigative journalist, and creative visionary who has spent over a decade challenging the status quo in political media. As founder and President of the National White House Correspondents' Association (NWHCA), Chanel is dedicated to restoring balance, transparency, and diversity of viewpoints in White House press coverage—a mission borne from her years as a frontline correspondent.

From 2020 to 2023, Chanel served as Chief White House Correspondent for One America News Network (OAN), where she earned a reputation for asking tough, unconventional questions during a pivotal time in American politics. Now, as host of OAN's "Fine Point," she continues to deliver sharp commentary and investigative insights, along with conducting incisive interviews with top names in the Trump world and thought leaders around the world.

Beyond journalism, blending her love of literature and art with her distinctive prose, Chanel founded Wordebys.com, where she curates forgotten words and art with original essays. Her eclectic upbringing—homeschooled across Texas, Missouri, France, and South Korea—shaped her perspective and curiosity, qualities that define her work today.

Chanel is no stranger to controversy. Chanel has been known for challenging mainstream narratives on issues like COVID-19, Biden family corruption, and election integrity. Chanel broke key stories that have been confirmed by Congress; including breaking the story of Gain of Function technology funded by NIH through UNC-Chapel Hill in collaboration with Wuhan scientists; Hunter Biden's tax liens; and the role of Eric Ciaramella and Adam Schiff in starting the Trump-Russia collusion hoax.

Today, through the NWHCA, Chanel is focusing on ways to bring the White House Briefing Room into the 21st century. A place where Americans and New Media might thrive.

A graduate of Harvard University with a background in International Relations, Literature, and Religion, Chanel brings intellectual rigor to her reporting and leadership. Whether she's breaking news, crafting stories, or advocating for a freer press, Chanel Rion remains a bold, independent force in media—a voice for the curious, the creative, and the courageous.

